

SCAVENGER HUNT AT FOXES LAIR ARBORETUM

As you find answers, tick or write the number of the tree in the box

A rock that you can climb	A tree cubby	A tree swing
3 big stones in a row Greyish speckled (granite) Black (dolerite) Brown (laterite)	4 types of pine tree 	The Sydney Harbour Bridge log
A mistletoe . These plants have yellow green leaves and grow on other trees and steal their sap. There is a narrow one on a wattle and a broadleaf one on a small tree (hanging from a branch about 1.5 to 2 metres up) near peg 465. May have berries	A tree (single stem) and A mallee (usually smaller with several stems coming from the ground)
Nuts See how many kinds of gumnuts you can find? Here are some types 	Eucalypt Bud Caps See how many kinds of bud caps you can find? Here are some types 	Leaves Shiny green Dull purple green Dull green Dull silvery green Trees or mallees with grey smooth spotty bark Black rough bark Smooth with squiggles of loose bark on top (minni ritchi bark)

An arboretum is a place where different types of trees are grown for people to enjoy. Most trees here are Australian eucalypts (gum trees). The flowers on these trees have a special cap on each flower (bud cap or operculum) to protect them before they open.

More information at this web page <https://www.foxeslair.org/visit-the-arboretum.html>

